The appearance of this famous humorist at the Theater Friday night promises not meet in a legitimate manner, and to be the event of the theatrical season, without encouraging any of the promiif we are to judge from what the press of other cities say about him and his en-tertainments. Here is an excerpt from a notice published in the Raleigh (N. C.) News, of recent date: "Josh Billings was the very Josh Billings looked for, the realization of the ideal that was framed in every mind; the plair, homespun-looking man, the embodiment of quiet native Lumor and quaint but pracical mother wit. He had but to open his lips to provoke resounding peals of laughter; not such laughter as follows the broad hits of the clown, but such as lesped forth unbidden in full sympathy with natural but inimitable humor.'

Washington, March 29, I a.m.—The severe storm which was central in Kentucky this morning moved to the eastward and is now central near the middle the form of a lozenge is the most convenient. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" valled in the middle and south Atlantic States, followed by clearing weather and westerly winds from Virginia southward to Florida. Heavy snow has prevailed in the lake region, with colder north-east to northwest winds and decidedly low barometer. The temperature has fallen in the Ohio valley and Tenuessee, with rain and snow. Brisk westerly er of vocal and instrumental music, will receive a few more pupils. Orders to be left at H. G. Hollenterg's music store, increased pressure. Violent gales are reported on the middle and south At-lantic coast. The rivers have risen six inches at St. Louis, Cairo and Helena; five inches at Memphis, three inches at Vicksburg, twenty-nine inches at Nash-bille, two feet at Cincinnati, and one foot at Leavenworth, and have fallen one foot at Pittsburg, seven inches at Davenport, fifteen inches at Shrevenort and four and a half feet at Augusta.

THE splendid display now on exhibition and to besold at auction at 2694 Main street, is worthy the attention of lovers of fine art. and CLEANING HOUSE in the city is at 246 Second street. T.J. WALKEH & CO.
